FEBRUARY 6, 2018

Being born and raised in Canada, I know just how beautiful our country is! With plenty of things to do and a host of friendly locals, it is a wonderful location for families in search of a unique vacation! Of course, if you're planning on taking your youngsters away with you during your next trip, you'll want to make sure that you choose a resort that's going to be welcoming and brimming with fantastic amenities that you can take advantage of. With that in mind, here is my list of some of the most kid-friendly resorts in Canada that you can visit this year!

1. The Watermark Beach Resort

Found on the beautiful shores of Lake Osoyoos, this resort prides itself on being the ideal destination for families, which means that everything gets a little easier from the moment you arrive. From spacious suites that offer a home away from home with all your essential comforts, to a range of activities that the whole family can take part in, there are countless things to love about this unique destination. There's even a pool and waterslide if you can manage to pull yourself from the warmth of the beach!

2. The Cove Lakeside Resort

From sparkling lakes to lush orchards, it's hard not to be overwhelmed by the beauty of the Cove Lakeside resort, located within Napa of the North. The Cove comes with its own private beach, where you can gather around a fire pit or start up your own barbecue. Additionally, there are two great pools, a 16-seat movie theatre, bikes for rent, and more! Even pets are welcome and babysitting is available for an extra charge.

3. Waterton Lakes Lodge Resort

There's no need to rely on lengthy outdoor excursions if you're looking for some incredible Canadian wildlife. The Waterton Lakes Lodge Resort is surrounded by dozens of deer, perfect for thrilling the kids. You can unwind on easy hikes throughout the day, or visit the resort pool to chill! for a couple of hours without a care in the world. There's also a playground, a fitness center, and a game room to explore.

4. The Fiddler Lake Resort

The perfect collection of cute wooden chalets, Fiddler Lake Resort is one of the best family retreat spots that you're ever likely to find. Not only does it have a wonderful recreation center, but there are also indoor and outdoor heated pools, a playground, and some cabins come decked out with their own sauna and hot tub. Surrounding the lake itself, you'll find plenty of pristine forest space perfect for games of hide-and-seek, biking, and more.

5. The Algonquin Resort

Andrews is the perfect seaside resort town for some. The Algonquin resort can be found resting peacefully on a hill looking down on the world below. You're sure to wow the kids with this castle experience, but the grandeur will quickly fade away the moment they're given the chance to enjoy the three-story indoor water slide.
